La mairesse
de Montréal

Au nom de l'ensemble des Montréalaises et des Montréalais, et en mon nom personnel, je vous souhaite la plus chaleureuse bienvenue à Montréal à l'occasion de la Réunion scientifique annuelle 2026 de la Société canadienne de transplantation.

Ce rendez-vous de premier plan rassemble des spécialistes, des chercheurs, des cliniciens et des professionnels de la santé provenant du Canada et d'ailleurs dans le monde, tous engagés à faire progresser les connaissances et les pratiques dans le domaine de la transplantation.

Montréal est reconnue à l'échelle internationale comme un pôle d'excellence en sciences de la vie, en recherche médicale et en innovation. Ses universités, ses centres de recherche de renommée mondiale et son réseau hospitalier en font un lieu privilégié pour l'avancement du savoir et de l'innovation en santé.

Votre travail est essentiel. Derrière chaque découverte, chaque innovation et chaque amélioration des soins se trouvent des personnes et des familles pour qui la transplantation représente un nouvel espoir.

Je vous remercie de votre engagement et vous souhaite un congrès enrichissant, ainsi qu'un excellent séjour dans notre métropole, reconnue pour son dynamisme, sa créativité et son accueil chaleureux.

Soraya Martinez Ferrada

Montréal

La mairesse
de Montréal

On behalf of all Montrealers, and on my own behalf, I would like to extend a warm welcome to you in Montréal for the 2026 Annual Scientific Meeting of the Canadian Society of Transplantation.

This important event brings together specialists, researchers, clinicians, and healthcare professionals from Canada and around the world, all committed to advancing knowledge and practices in the field of transplantation.

Montréal is internationally recognized as a centre of excellence in the life sciences, medical research, and innovation. Its universities, world-renowned research centres, and hospital network make it an ideal location for promoting research and innovation in healthcare.

Your work is essential. Behind every discovery, every innovation, and every improvement in care are individuals and families for whom transplantation represents new hope.

I thank you for your commitment and wish you a rewarding conference, as well as an excellent stay in our city, known for its vitality, creativity, and warm welcome.

Soraya Martinez Ferrada

Montréal

La mairesse
de Montréal

On behalf of the city of Montréal and on my own behalf, I am pleased to welcome the guests gathered here for the B'nai Brith Canada 2026 Montréal Award of Merit Gala.

This evening provides an opportunity to recognize individuals who stand out for their commitment to serving the community and their contribution to the democratic life of our society. I would like to extend my warmest congratulations to Senator Leo Housakos, recipient of the 2026 Award of Merit. Throughout his public career, he has demonstrated a deep commitment to the values of respect, inclusion, and dialogue, while serving as a steadfast ally of the Jewish community.

Montréal is an open and diverse city, whose richness is rooted in the contributions of its many communities. The Jewish community plays an important role in the history and vitality of our city, to which it makes remarkable contributions economically, socially, culturally, and philanthropically.

I would also like to highlight the essential work carried out by B'nai Brith Canada. For over 150 years, the organization has helped defend human rights, combat antisemitism, and support the most vulnerable.

I wish you all an excellent gala and an inspiring evening.

Soraya Martinez Ferrada

Montréal